Black Creek Appoints New Technical Writer

Birmingham, AL – January 13, 2017 – Jaynae Rheaume has joined Black Creek in the position of Technical Writer. Jaynae will be responsible for writing and editing user manuals and company literature related to Black Creek’s products. She will also be translating complex product functionality and technical information into concise and user friendly instructions for a varied audience that includes engineers, jail administrators, and correctional officers.

As a former Electronics Technician who holds an associate degree in Electronic Theory and a bachelor’s degree in English, Jaynae is an excellent fit for the position and is excited about joining the team. Jaynae says, “I am thrilled to be utilizing two of my passions and expertise into this new role. I want to bring whatever I can to this position to help ensure our customers are getting the best experience possible.”
